LAIRD LAW FIRM UPDATE

New Office Location | Clarion, IA

NEW LOCATION,
NEW POSSIBILITIES

Now Serving the Clarion Community

Laird Law Firm is proud to grow our presence in north central Iowa with the addition of Rich E. Bordwell's respected Clarion practice. This step strengthens our ability to serve individuals, families, and businesses throughout the region while maintaining the personalized attention and superior legal counsel you have come to trust from us. The Clarion office will now operate under the Laird Law Firm name.

This acquisition also brings three talented new team members, each with a wealth of experience, a shared dedication to client service, and a deep understanding of the community's legal needs. By combining our strengths, we are better positioned than ever to serve you with efficiency, depth, and insight, without changing the priorities that have always guided our work.

We are excited about the opportunities this merger creates for you, our valued clients. If you have any questions about the transition, please don't hesitate to reach out to us.

Thank you for your continued trust and confidence in our firm. We look forward to serving you with even greater strength and expertise in the years ahead.
